What is the first type of vegetable that the little old lady gets from the garden?

The young man: Good lady, I am very hungry. Can you give me something to eat?

The old lady: I have nothing to give you, I have nothing in the house. I have nothing in the garden.

The young man: Stop, if you will not give me something to eat, will you give me a stone?

The old lady: A stone? What will you do with a stone? You cannot eat a stone!

The young man: Ah, I can make soup from a stone.
